Kennedy & Castro Connection: (Two Revolutionaries) Therlee Gipson

Prelude This is two books in one publication, "Kennedy & Castro Connection (Two Revolutionaries)" which tells the story of John F. Kennedy and Fidel Castro lives, where they came from and their Political Careers. One survived and one didn't. Both men were Revolutionaries and they wanted to end racial discrimination. John Fitzgerald Kennedy, the thirty-fifth President of the United States, was assassinated at 12:30 pm Central Standard Time on Friday, November 22, 1963, in Dealey Plaza, Dallas, Texas. Kennedy was fatally shot while traveling with his wife Jacqueline, Texas Governor John Connally, and the latter's wife, Nellie, in a Presidential Motorcade. Fidel Castro, the illegitimate son of a successful Creole sugar plantation owner, was born in Cuba on August 13, 1926. He was a rebellious boy and at the age of thirteen helped to organize a strike of sugar workers (mostly Black) on his father's plantation. Both his parents were illiterate but they were determined that their children should receive a good education and Fidel was sent to a Jesuit boarding school. Although he disliked the strict discipline of the school, Fidel soon showed that he was extremely intelligent. However, except for history, he preferred sports to academic subjects. Fidel was good at running, soccer and baseball, and in 1944 was awarded the prize as Cuba's best all-round school athlete. After he had finished his education Castro became a lawyer in Havana. As he tended to take the cases of poor people (mostly Black) who could not afford to pay him, Castro was constantly short of money. Castro's experience as a lawyer made him extremely critical of the great inequalities in wealth that existed in Cuba. Like many other Cubans, Castro resented the wealth and power of the American businessmen who appeared to control the Country. Castro also came close to death in prison. Captain Pelletier was instructed to put poison in Castro's food. The man refused and instead revealed his orders to the Cuban people. Castro was Court-Martial but, concerned about World opinion, Batista decided not to have Castro killed. The rest is history.
