Ignoring history causes us to fall into serious interpretation errors regarding "End of the World" prophecies. Jesus and the apostles used the word "aion" when they referred to the end of "an era" and not the word "Kosmos", which refers to "the world". The Jewish Historian, Flavius Josephus lived in the first century throughout the end of the Old Testament Jewish age and he described what took place in great detail in his books "The Wars of the Jews." The author makes a compilation and summary of these very valuable historical writings, joining segments where we can clearly appreciate the fulfillment of all prophecies of the end. This book is very revealing and graphic. You will read about the signs seen in the sky and in the Temple as well as the horrors that occurred until the final destruction of old Israel.
