A Message from Freedom Lea Laruffa

A message from Freedom is a heartfelt page turner; of life, and loss, of love, and living in the shadows of others. About the life of Adam; a man who had endured his share of neglect growing up, and his attempt to preserve his family; a family which is killed by the hand of an incompetent doctor. His retaliation leads him to imprisonment, potentially for a lifetime. Life is meant to be lived, and enjoyed. But when your life, your family is taken away, the vindictive part of us takes over. Adam enters yet another phase of his life, and creates another family; a special and unique family. One capable of things no one else is capable of. This leads Adam to create the perfect environment and surroundings for his family. And for a while life seems blissful. A bird named Freedom is introduced to his life; Freedom, a celestial bird capable of bringing messages to and from the dead. After he endures the murder of his family once again, he takes it upon himself to find the assassins and becomes one himself. It isn't until he almost loses the last surviving members of his family that he realizes he had lost himself in the process. And that leads him to the final chapter of his life; the chapter of religion and the discovery of his roots.
